User Guide- Originator

DamageAccess is an online tool that allows users to report both damages to underground utility facilities and violations of safe excavating practices that did not result in asset damage. Each report must be approved by a supervisor from the reporting company to confirm the accuracy of the content, before being passed to PURA for their review. Completed reports must be received by PURA within 30 days of the incident occurring.

From January 1, 2018 DamageAccess replaces the existing printed forms that are completed and sent to CBYD.

To use DamageAccess you will need internet access and one of the following internet browsers: Chrome, Internet Explorer 11 or Firefox/Mozilla.

The process requires an Originator to fill in a report of the Damage/Violation. Once all known information is completed the report is then submitted to a Supervisor for their review. A Supervisor can be anyone who can confirm that the details are correct – it need not be an organizational supervisor (or boss) as long as it is someone in your company.

PURA then reviews the content to make decisions regarding enforcement and to report to DIRT.

A Supervisor can return a report to the Originator for edits if necessary, while a PURA user can return a report to its Supervisor if need be for additional revisions.
